No Call Made But Guard Unit Ready: Terry

Milam County's National Guard unit, Company C, 3rd Medium Tank Battalion, is ready if President Kennedy should call them to active duty because of the Berlin crisis.

"We stay ready," Capt. James T. Terry, its commanding officer said Monday.

Capt. Terry said he wanted to make it clear, however, that he had not been told of any plans to call up the 49th Armored Division of which Company C is a part. And no orders for doing so have been received.

Company C returned to Cameron on Sunday from North Fort Hood where it had been attending its annual two weeks of summer camp. Capt. Terry's view that the unit was ready was based on its performance there.

"It was a pretty rugged camp and we had some intensive training," he said.

Other local Guardsmen shared his view that the unit is ready if it is called up. Most of them, however, are taking a wait-and-see-what-happens attitude about the mobilization rumors now being circulated.

Capt. Terry reported that Company C's payroll for the two weeks summer camp was approximately $6,000.

Negligent Homicides Charged

2 Die In 3-Way Wreck

Two charges of negligent homicide have been filed in Judge B. G. Rice's Justice Court against Wade Augustus Brooks, 67, of Waco, driver in a three-way collision on US 190 2 miles west of Cameron in which two persons died last Thursday.

State Patrolman Jack Straley told the Herald that the charges were alleged on failure to stop at intersection in the collision at 1:40 p. m. Thursday. Wendell Burns Jones, 24, of Ft. Dodge, Iowa, and Miss Wanda Mae Decker, 21, of Texas City, suffered fatal injuries.

Critically injured was Harold Wayne Decker, 24, brother of the deceased girl, also of Texas City. He is still under treatment in Cameron's St. Edward's Hospital. Checked for minor injuries were: J. M. Polston, 27, of the 670th Transportation Co., Fort Hood, driver of an Army truck-trailer unit in

Council Approves Bid On Pumps

The City Council Tuesday night accepted bids on double sewerage lift pumps, aluminum sulphate for the water plant and 500 feet of new fire hose.

The City officials heard discussion on a claim by the Nathaniel Anderson estate concerning property used by the city for a water drainage system on North Burns Street. An offer made by the city in proportion to payments made to other property owners was termed unsatisfactory by Miss Marjorie Petty of Waco, representing the estate. City Attorney Charles C. Smith suggested that the council wait for further action.

Truck, 2 Cars Collide Tuesday At Intersection

A trailer truck and two cars collided at the intersection of highways 36 and 77 Tuesday afternoon. There were no injuries.

Chief of Police Elvin Hoskins said that a 1958 two-ton trailer truck driven by Cecil Mark Hart, 46, of Lueders, Texas, was traveling west and collided with a car driven by Emma Ray Carey, 54, of Tyler, spinning her vehicle around in the intersection.

The Carey car then struck a 1959 Oldsmobile driven by Marmaduke K. Thornton, 69, of College Station, causing about $75 damage to his car.

Hoskins estimated the damage to the truck at about $150 and damage to the Carey 1960 Plymouth at $450 to $500.

Hart, driver of the truck was issued a ticket for running a red light, Chief Hoskins stated.

Five Plead Guilty After Indictments In District Court

A Milam County Grand Jury July 6 indicted six men and in four days five of them entered pleas of guilty and drew probated sentences in Milam District Court.

Howard Ray Karl and Robert Ward Thornton indicted for burglary of the Oak Club, near Pettibone, on June 20, entered pleas of guilty and drew five probated sentences.

The two men were required to make restitution of properties to Charlie Mayer, owner of the Oak Club.

Johnny Ray Seaton, indicted for burglary of pecans along with four other youths from a barn near Rogers, entered a plea of guilty and received a two-year probated sentence upon restitution of property taken.

James Mayes, Negro of Thrall indicted for burglary of the Rodenbeck Feed Store May 26, entered a plea of guilty and received a three-year probated sentence in District Court.

The other indictments by the Milam Grand Jury were: James B. Morris, swindle by worthless check given to M. R. Currey, of Rockdale, Sept. 1, 1959. The case was tried July 7 in District Court and Morris drew a two-year probated sentence upon restitution of the amount of the check.

James Cunningham, Jr. was indicted on a charge of swindle by worthless check given to N. B. Boyles March 31, 1961, in the amount of $64.29. He awaits trial.

Chollett lost control of his vehicle as both cars were attempting to pass a third car on the highway, State Patrolman Jack Straley said. Damage to the Chollett vehicle was about $250 while damage to the Manning car was minor, he said.

No one was injured.

Two Cars Collide In Weekend Crash; Four Hospitalized

Two cars crashed head on about 11 p. m. Saturday at the intersection of US 77 - SH 36 south of Cameron, sending four people to Cameron hospitals.

State Patrolman Jack Straley said that a 1955 Chevrolet driven by James Horace Belt, 21, of Rt. 1, Milano collided with a 1955 Ford driven by Robert E. Martin, 25, of the 502nd Avn. Co., Fort Hood.

Martin suffered a fractured skull Straley said. He and a passenger Louis G. Benjamin, 18, of the same address, are in Newton Hospital for treatment of injuries.

Belt and a passenger in his car, Miss Carolyn Brymer, 17, of Milano, were taken to St. Edward's Hospital for treatment of injuries. Straley said Martin's car was entering SH 36 from US 77 and collided with Belt's vehicle on SH 36.

Straley said both vehicles were total losses.

Shuffield's Trial Heads Into 4th Day

Zeigler Succeeds Dr. Earl Knebel

Charles Zeigler, 29, assistant superintendent of Cameron Public Schools since May and school counselor since February, has been named to succeed Dr. Earl Knebel as Cameron school superintendent.

Dr. Knebel resigned last week after announcing he had accepted a post as professor and head of the Agricultural Education Dept. at Texas A & M College. He begins his new duties August 1.

Dr. Knebel came to Cameron as superintendent in July, 1960 after serving as an assistant professor in Ag Education at Texas A & M for five years.

Zeigler, who will assume his duties August 1, was hired Tuesday night at Ben Milam School in a special School Board meeting. He received a two-year contract.

He was superintendent of the Oglesby Schools for two and one-half years and was principal of a small school at Davita prior to his Oglesby post. Zeigler is married and has two small children.

Dr. Knebel's resignation was accepted with regret by school board members in a meeting last week. He recommended Zeigler as his successor.

Board President Milton Schiller said Zeigler was highly recommended by Knebel, other school officials where he was employed and by people in Cameron who have known him and his work.

Dr. Knebel had two more years on his contract, but said the opportunity to return to A & M as head of the department where he was an assistant professor was a real challenge too good to pass up.

"My wife, my daughter and I will be leaving a host of friends in the Cameron community. I wish to express my appreciation to the splendid co-operative attitude of a dedicated school board, a devoted faculty and well-mannered student body and many fine school patrons," Knebel told The Herald.

He will succeed Dr. E. V. Walton, who is resigning to go into private work as a guidance and counseling consultant in Texas public schools.

Dr. Knebel was active in civic and community affairs in Cameron as a director of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, Cameron Rotary Club, Milam A & M Club. He was also on the Board of Stewards of the First Methodist Church.

He is listed in Who's Who in American Education and is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, national educational honor society.

Seven New Teachers Hired For Schools; Five Others Resign

Supt. Earl Knebel has announced the employment of seven new teachers for the 1961-62 school year in Cameron schools.

They are: Mrs. John Batte, elementary; Mrs. E. J. Burkes, junior high school; Mrs. Ellen Malick, special education co-ordinator and teacher; Mrs. Myra Jackson Kirk, homemaking; Jimmy Rettig, mathematics and coaching; Mrs. Rosa Bradley, O. J. Thomas elementary; and Mrs. Ruby Lee Turner, O. J. Thomas elementary.

School officials have accepted five resignations. They are Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Young, Mrs. Billy Bates, Mrs. Charles Zeigler and Mrs. Elizabeth Zelisko.

Yoe Yearbooks Now Available At BMS

Mrs. Richard Burke, sponsor of the Yoe High School yearbook, "Yoe Yoe", has announced that yearbooks have arrived and will be distributed Thursday and Friday at Ben Milam School.

She said distribution time will be 9 a. m. to noon and 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. both days. The books are available at Ben Milam teachers lounge.

New Athletic Policy

Citizen Groups Heard

The Cameron School Board approved an athletic policy concerning contact football and heard a report from a citizens advisory group on a proposal to finance four new O. J. Thomas classrooms.

Dr. S. H. Richardson presented an outline of recommendations from the Board's athletic committee which prescribed policies on seventh and eighth grade football.

The two-part resolution, approved by Board members Niley Smith, Dr. Richardson and F. W. Vogel-sang, but voted against by Dr. Robert Tumlinson, urged deemphasis of junior high athletic programs and greater emphasis on improved physical fitness program.

It urged suspension of interscholastic league games, in line with the board's decision last month which abolished junior high football.

But the policy approved "teaching fundamentals and skills in the usual allotted practice periods, using the accepted protective equipment and uniforms."

It also called for limiting the starting distance of body contact to four feet with no downfield and interference-type blocking nor tackling allowed. And no scrimmage involving kickoff or punt returns or other hazardous "game conditions" will be allowed. Eighth grade students graduating to the ninth grade may enter pre-season spring and summer football conditioning sessions by University Interscholastic League rules, the resolution said.

Eual Shuffield, son of Hubert W. Shuffield, of Cameron, defendant in Shuffield murder trial, was on the stand at press time Wednesday afternoon as defense witnesses appeared before the 12-man Milam District petit jury.

Before a packed, tense crowd, Eual Shuffield testified that Jesse Kirk, Jr., killed the morning of April 14 in the Shuffield Cafe, had come into the cafe, kicked over a chair.

In quiet, sometimes inaudible tones, Shuffield said he saw Kirk leaning over the cafe counter, talking to his (Shuffield's) niece. Then he said Kirk hit the counter with his fist.

Shuffield then testified that he told his niece, Miss Bertha Unger, "I don't serve Kirks in here." He said that Kirk said "hello, son-of-a-bitch." Then he asked Kirk to leave and his father, Hubert Shuffield, also asked Kirk to leave.

Shuffield said Kirk was facing both Shuffields. Miss Unger was behind the counter, then ran out the side entrance of the cafe into the adjacent Shuffield grocery.

Shuffield then testified, Kirk said "I go where I damn please" and reached into his right coat pocket.

"I said, 'Watch him papa.' And papa shot him," Shuffield testified.

Shuffield then said that he, his father and Kirk, lying on the floor, were in the cafe when Chief of Police Elvin Hoskins arrived.

It was the tensest moment of the trial. Eual Shuffield was the third defense witness, following Miss Unger and her mother, Mrs. Louise (Edna) Unger, on the witness stand.

Miss Unger, 20, testified that Kirk had asked her for a date that morning.

She told the jury that she did not actually see the shooting, but left the room to go to her mother. She said she told her mother there was trouble.

Dist. Atty. Prescott asked Miss Unger if she had not told him the morning of April 14, after the shooting, that Jesse Kirk had not caused a disturbance. She said she didn't remember.

She testified Wednesday that she, Eual Shuffield and Jesse Kirk, Jr., were the only ones in the cafe.

Prescott questioned: "Is it your testimony today Jesse Kirk came into the cafe, pounded on the counter and started an argument with Eual?" She said yes.

She also testified that she was upset the day of the shooting and was now.

Her mother, Mrs. Edna Unger took the stand. She described how she called the police and ambulance when a boy had reported to her at her house that there had been a shooting at the cafe.

She said her daughter had first come into the house and said there was trouble at the store. She went to the cafe to find several people in the store beside her brother and Kirk, lying on the floor. She identified the revolver, State's Exhibit No. 1, as her father's, Hubert Shuffield.

Mrs. Unger testified that Kirk had flirted with her about four years ago. She had told her father, Mrs. Unger said, who told the Kirks to stay on their own side of the street.

She said she had been in Cameron the last three years and worked in her father's store.

Prescott did not cross examine the witness, but asked that Mrs. Unger be available for further questioning.

At 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, the State was about to rest its case in the murder trial of Hubert W. Shuffield, 66, of Cameron, charged with the shooting death of Jesse Kirk, Jr., 44, Cameron truck-line owner.

Testimony of two law officers Cameron Police Chief Elvin Hoskins and Milam County Sheriff Black, showed that Shuffield had admitted shooting Kirk in the Shuffield Cafe.

Said Hoskins: "I asked Mr. Shuffield who did the shooting. He said, 'I did.' He told Eual Shuffield (the defendant's son who was in cafe when the shooting occurred). Don't you say nothing. I'll do the talking."

Shuffield said Kirk was facing both Shuffields. Miss Unger was behind the counter, then ran out the side entrance of the cafe into the adjacent Shuffield grocery.

Shuffield then testified, Kirk said "I go where I damn please" and reached into his right coat pocket.

Vet Tells How To Control Acid

By J. D. Moore
Milam County Agent
NOTE: Our guest columnist is Dr. R. M. Tiftworth, local veterinarian.
One of our neighbors lost 15 Holstein calves from prussic acid poisoning recently.

According to Dr. Tiftworth, prussic acid poisoning develops in wilting or quick growth Johnson grass plants. Due to the favorable rains, a lot of quick growth Johnson grass is present and prussic acid poisoning is widespread.
Cattle grazing continuously on a pasture are not as likely to get the poison. The necessity of turning cattle into a new pasture is dangerous, and caution should be taken according to Dr. Tiftworth. Then too, all cattle are not affected the same. Dr. Tiftworth cites a recent case where fifty head of cattle were on a pasture and only one animal was affected.
Dr. Tiftworth suggested that stockmen do not turn all their cattle into a new pasture at one time. He even suggested that an inferior animal be used to test the grass. In the case of valuable dairy and

Brazilian Group Visits Hatchery

By Robert Mann
The Ideal Hatchery and Poultry Farm was host to 22 Brazilian Poultry Science students from A & M College Saturday. The group visited Ideal on one of seven weekend trips taken during the seven-week Poultry Science Course they are taking at College Station.
The group consisted of prominent businessmen and governmental officials of Brazil. They came as a result of the CIA program, which allows foreign students and businessmen to study American techniques of business operation.
D. W. F. Krueger, professor of Poultry Science at A & M and program chairman for the group said, "The purpose of the group is to learn our production techniques in poultry, so they can expand production of meat for their people. Brazil has a protein shortage and chicken and chicken eggs offer the greatest source of nutrition at the least cost."

Feed Quantity Sets Milk Production Of Dairy Cattle

COLLEGE STATION -- The biggest single factor influencing the amount of milk a cow produces is the amount of feed she eats.
A. M. Meekma, extension dairy specialist, says that contrary to the belief of some, feeding, not breeding, is mainly responsible for milk production. Inheritance determines the top potential level of production, but environment determines actual production, he explains.
To support his theory, Meekma cites a study by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in which 462 lactation records of 230 cows were studied over a seven-year period. This study showed that season of calving, days calf was carried while milking, and length of previous dry period, also influenced production.
The specialist says it is evident that Texas dairymen need to get more feed into their cows. "Not only do we need more and better forage, but we should feed the grain mixture according to the performance of the cow if we are to make the most profit from dairy cattle," he says.

How about a Fair Break for Railroads?

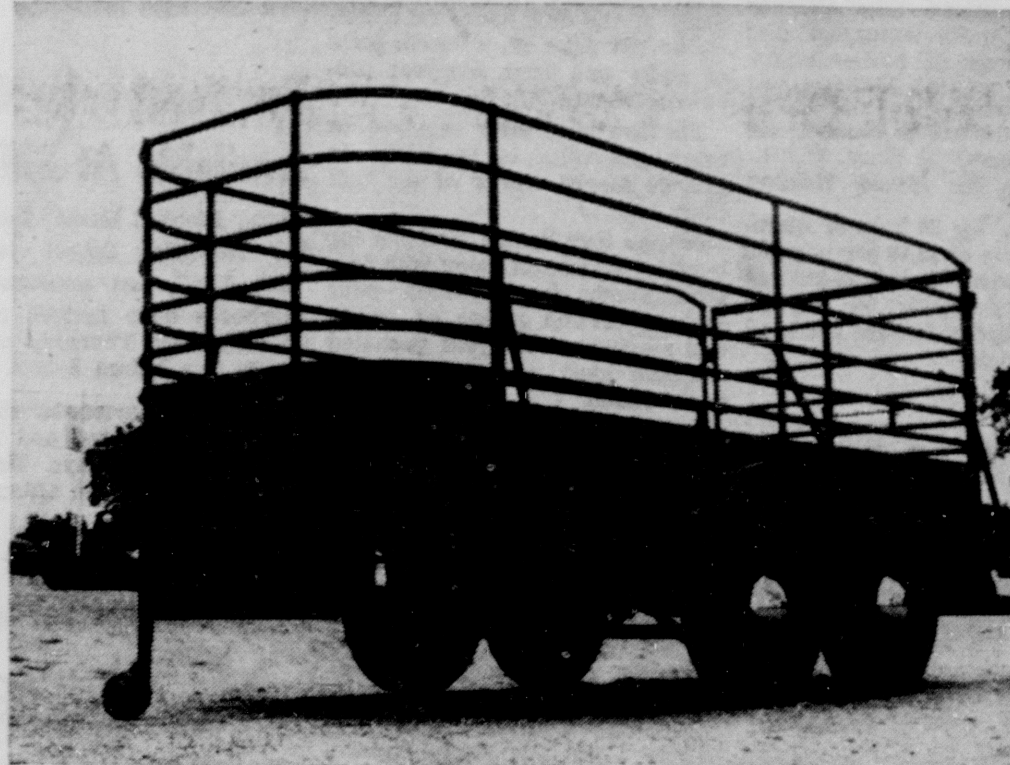

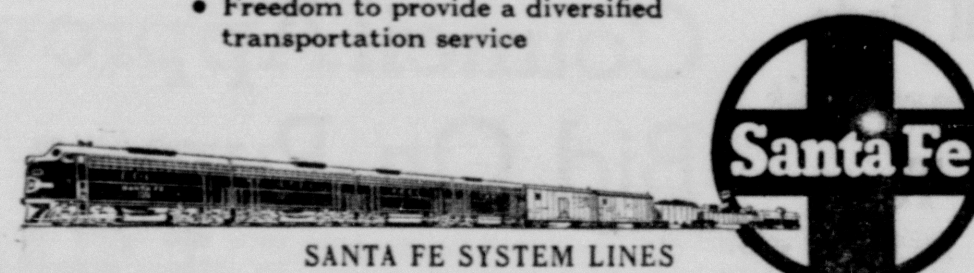

we're asking your support for equal treatment by government of all carriers, including the railroads

The Association of American Railroads has drawn up a document called "Magna Carta for Transportation."

We're asking for public support of this common-sense statement on public transportation policy, hoping citizens will recognize that an entire industry that serves them is being deprived of its natural rights—and will want to help.

What to do? Ask your congressman to help restore to the railroads these "four freedoms":

- Freedom from discriminatory regulation
- Freedom from discriminatory taxation
- Freedom from subsidized competition
- Freedom to provide a diversified transportation service

Veterans Given Additional Time In Which To Apply For GI Loan

Veterans of World War II and Korean have been given additional time in which to apply for a GI loan by legislation signed last week by the President, P. J. Mims, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Waco said today.

The extension applies to guaranteed or insured loans for homes, farms and businesses and to direct home loans.

The new law provides for: 1. A phase-out eligibility formula under which a veteran will be eligible for a GI loan for 10 years from the date of his discharge from his last period of wartime service plus an additional year of eligibility for each three months of active wartime service.

2. An increase from the present $13,500 to $15,000 as the maximum an eligible veteran may get from the government as a direct loan.

3. A total of $1.2 billion over the next six years for use in direct home loans by the VA.

Eligibility of a World War II veteran under the new law may not extend beyond July 25, 1967 in any case nor beyond January 31, 1975 for any Korean veteran. A veteran discharged because of a service-connected disability will be eligible to apply under the final cut-off date.

The new law provides that eligibility shall not terminate in any case prior to July 25, 1962 for a World War II veteran nor prior to January 31, 1965 for a Korean veteran, the cut-off dates under the old law.

Under the new law the Administrator of Veterans Affairs may request a total of $500 million from the Secretary of the Treasury for direct home loans during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1962 and may request the remainder of the $1.2 billion over the next six years, through fiscal year 1967.

Direct loans are limited to specifically designated rural areas, towns and small cities where the administrator has determined that private mortgage money is not available for GI loans.

Additional information may be obtained from any of the following locations: Veterans Administration Hospital, Temple.

Report From The Confederacy

South Fails Again As General Garnet Dies

By Robert Stenedale

MONTEREY, Virginia, June 14, 1961. - A sorry story of defeat Northwestern Virginia is continuing this week with a note of tragedy added by the news of the death of Brig. Gen. Robert S. Garnett. The district commander was killed in action yesterday as he fought to slow the inexorable advance of Federal General George McClellan's victorious column.

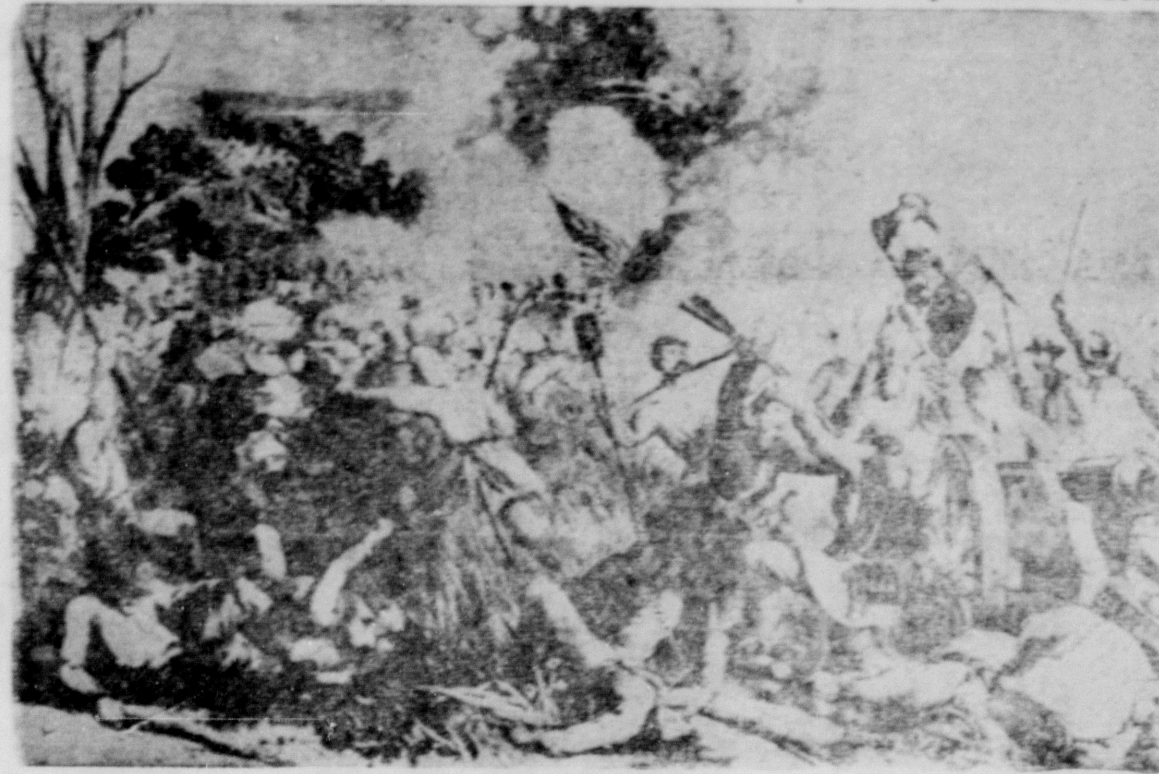

Send Rich Mountain just west of Beverly Va., while Gen. Garnett occupied Laurel Hill farther north.

The Confederate emplacements on the two eminences controlled the roads over which the Federals had to advance and although the men were still largely armed with obsolete muskets and barely trained in basic infantry maneuvers, the officers were confident that they could hold the positions in-gained a safe lead.

General Struck Down

General Garnett moved among the men constantly as bullets whined through the underbrush and scrub trees which choke the area. Finally he ordered the retreat to continue while he stayed with the last elements to select sharpshooter positions at the next ford. He ignored the heavy enemy fire and his aide's plea that he take cover.

Federals Overrun Confederate Guns on Rich Mountain.

After McClellan routed Confederate forces at Philippi last month, General Garnett, a member of the West Point class of '41, was ordered here from Richmond together with two hastily assembled regiments. Taking command of the disorganized little army which had retreated to Huttonsville, Va., General Garnett moved forward and occupied positions overlooking the highways leading toward the important Shenandoah Valley.

With only 4000 troops, he had no expectation of driving McClellan's large force from the region, but he advised Richmond that he would attempt to keep the Federals too busy to threaten other portions of the State.

Lt. Col. John Pegram of the Twentieth Virginia, a promising young officer, was assigned to de-fectly. That confidence was misplaced.

Confederates Surrender

About noon on the 11th, aggressive Union troops surprised the pickets at the rear of the Rich Mountain position. They drove off five infantry companies and closed Col. Pegram's main line of retreat. At the same moment, a Federal column began a demonstration against the front.

Pegram sent troops back to clear the rear, but they were unable to do so and the only hope was to attempt a general evacuation of the Rich Mountain position. Day before yesterday and during the following night, Pegram's men struggled to reach the main base and safety. Two other regiments escaped by way of Huttonsville, but the Federals captured Beverly before Pegram arrived there yesterday and he was forced to surrender with 553 officers and men.

Although this loss was not large, Pegram's withdrawal exposed General Garnett's position on Laurel Mountain and the latter was forced to begin a slow retreat. A series of desperate rearguard actions were fought at each of the nameless fords on the escape route and at one of these, the General met his death.

He had exposed his person recklessly throughout the withdrawal and finally succeeded in halting the Federals in a desperate little action at Carrick's Ford. There the First Georgia and the Twenty-third Virginia beat off the enemy while the treasured wagon train turning his horse to see if his troops were coming up, he was knocked from the saddle by a bullet which struck him in the back. The retreating Confederates were forced to leave his body where it fell. The rest of Garnett's men arrived at Monterey today after an exhausting march across the ridges.

Red Cross Blood Program Told At Lions Meeting

Mrs. J. B. Jansky, chairman of the Milam Volunteer Blood program, Monday addressed Cameron Lions, discussing the need for better understanding of the Red Cross blood program.

She was introduced by John B. Henderson, Jr., program chairman and new Cameron blood program chairman.

She cited the bloodmobile program which has a quota for Cameron of 70 pints per visit. She pointed out that every legal resident of Milam County is entitled to receive blood anywhere in the nation, later to be replaced by the Waco Red Cross Blood Bank.

The patient pays only the cost of the transfusion and necessary paper work. She said if a Milam Countian would state to the hospital in which he is a patient that he resides in Milam County, a member of the Central Texas Regional blood program, he can get all the blood he needs free of charge.

Because the local blood drive program should be a community project, she said, Henderson is contacting all churches and service clubs in the Cameron area for their co-operation in making the bloodmobile quota.

"It takes a continuing effort to maintain a successful volunteer blood program," Mrs. Jansky emphasized.

Mrs. Ellen Malick Speaks To Ladies At St. Monica's

The St. Monica's Ladies and Christian Mothers Society met July 11 at Simon George Hall.

Rev. John Geiser read the opening prayer. During the business session, the president, Mrs. Lawrence Jetter, announced that Mrs. Frank Kratochvil was appointed the new Public Relations Chairman.

Mrs. Ellen Malick, guest speaker, was introduced by Mrs. Al Schoppe, program chairman. Mrs. Malick will serve as a teacher co-ordinator for a special education program to be initiated in the Cameron Public Schools this fall. She explained the set-up and the need of such a program for children who are handicapped or have speech difficulties.

Mrs. Malick is directing a special program in Rosebud this summer in co-operation with Rosebud and Cameron school officials to help non-English speaking children. After Mrs. Malick spoke, a brief question and answer session was held.

The meeting was adjourned with a prayer.

Laughs Are Reward For Donkey Riders

Laughs galore were the prizes for the contestants of the Cameron Handicap, or in other words, a donkey race, held in downtown Cameron Friday morning as one of the last phases of Western Week activities.

Six donkeys, three to a heat, ran two races; then the winner of each heat ran winners of opposing heats, narrowing down to a champion donkey rider, Buddy Shipp. Eugene Smitherman, ran a close second and competed with Shipp, Harvey Kimbrell, and Ed Laywell for the most laughs.

Laywell was outfitted in a so-called jockey getup with a bright red tie and sleeve garters. For eye protection from the fantastic speed the donkeys attained, he wore goggles. However, Laywell soon discovered that he needed protection on the opposit end from his eyes when he chose a wild, rough and ready mount.

RED BUG BITES TURKEYS

The common chigger or red bug is causing trouble in turkeys being produced on the range. Bill Cawley, extension poultry husbandman, advises producers to check their birds for details. Too many chigger bites have a real influence on the market value of the bird.

It has always been the policy of Cadillac engineers to provide full-range performance . . . with no one phase accented at the expense of another. The 1961 Cadillac delivers the best balanced response in Cadillac history . . . smooth, alert and quiet from start to cruising . . . equally impressive in busy traffic as in turnpike passing. The Cadillac power plant for 1961 will influence the fine car field for years to come.

Little League Purpose Discussed

By Robert Mann

What is the purpose of Little League Baseball?

Is it to show the youngsters what bad language a coach can use? Is it organized to give someone a chance to show off in front of a crowd? Is it a program where parents, coaches, and umpires are supposed to be given an opportunity to criticize the opposing team, or each other?

Or is it a program for the youngsters. To teach them good citizenship, sportsmanship, fair play, level headedness and clear thinking.

The last definition comes closer to being accurate than the first, and everybody knows it. So why do parents blow their tops, coaches rave at the umpires, and 12-year-old boys pick up bad words and habits.

When a person accepts a position working with youngsters, he isn't accepting a personal challenge. He is accepting a duty that rests with him and that will continue to rest with him all the days of his life.

Every movement a man makes is watched by someone. Often is the time that someone is looking for someone to model himself after. Often is the time he will style himself after someone and become a respectable citizen.

Yet too often the 12-year-old will watch his elders quarrel among themselves, argue over strikes and balls and utter curses under his breath at that so-called umpire.

Too often the youngster isn't corrected when he loses his temper and throws his bat in a fit of anger or walks off the field in a stride of disgust.

Years later this same youngster will be throwing books at school teachers, taking swings at well-meaning advisors and then walking out of school, never to return to the field of learning or the field of self-improvement.

This isn't written to discourage anyone from a leading hand to LL organizations. But it is written to set the adult to thinking about his own actions. "Is it really worth it?"

Farm Safety

A good time to get into the daily habit of farm safety is during National Farm Safety Week, July 23 through 29. An outline for daily safety habits is as follows.

SUNDAY -- Reverence for Life:

Take time to take care -- Be open-minded to safety suggestions. Realize that haste makes waste. Plan to avoid an over-crowded schedule.

MONDAY -- Safety Begins at Home

Keep your farm and farm home in order -- eliminate hazards as you find them. Be a good housekeeper in your home and on your farm.

TUESDAY -- Agricultural Chemicals:

Chemicals are becoming more widely used in agriculture and about the farm home. Always read the label, use as directed, store in original containers and in locked cabinets. Dispose of empty containers safely.

WEDNESDAY -- Prevent Falls:

Plan ahead -- good planning reduces the temptation to hurry, means better production and fewer accidents. Repair and discard broken or unsafe ladders. Make sure the stairways are adequately lighted and properly handrailed.

THURSDAY -- Rural highway safety:

Be courteous on the highway -- A courteous driver believes in living and let live. Know and obey all traffic laws and follow safe driving practices. Remove trees, weeds and shrubs at farm entrances and intersections to improve visibility. Obey the "Signs of Life."

FRIDAY -- Farm machinery:

Don't depend on luck -- make sure your equipment is in safe operating condition. Make certain all guards and safety devices are in place. Always stop the machine before unclogging, oiling or adjusting. Equipment should be well marked with flags and flashing red lights.

SATURDAY -- Recreation Safety:

Take safety seriously -- everywhere -- all the time. Around bodies of water (both large and small) be especially careful. Learn to handle guns properly. Include safety in farm family vacation time.

blackboard. Various pieces of cafe equipment and furniture were indicated on the diagram.

Kirk's body was shown to be lying near the entrance way of the cafe.

Bill Marek, Cameron funeral home director, said he was called to the next-door laundry, then entered the cafe to find Kirk's body on the floor. He testified that he attempted to take Kirk's pulse, but found none.

He testified that he, Sheriff Black and others put Kirk's body on a stretcher and into the Marek-Burns hearse.

Marek, Hoskins and Black testified that no furniture was overturned until Black later testified that he had moved a table to make room for the stretcher.

Hoskins testified that he had arrived at the cafe about 9:20 a. m. April 14 to find Kirk's body on the floor, and Mr. Shuffield and his son, Eual Shuffield, in the cafe. He said he did not mark off the exact location of the body, nor measure dimensions of the room.

Black said he arrived about 9:15 a. m., called by radio, to find Hoskins outside the cafe, Kirk's body and the Shuffields in the small building. He said a group of on-lookers was outside.

He produced a 22-caliber revolver which he identified as the weapon given him by Hoskins. It was entered as State's Exhibit No. 1.

During defense questioning, he described the approximate block-size operation of the Kirk trucklines across the street from the Shuffield cafe. He then described position of equipment and dimensions of the cafe and surrounding buildings. Defense Atty. Smith then introduced a diagram of the building as Defense Exhibit No. 1.

Black testified that he brought Hubert Shuffield and his son to the courthouse and filed charges of murder on both because at the time he had not fully ascertained who had done the shooting.

"Eual Shuffield neither denied or admitted doing it," Black said. He then said that both men were sent, in separate cars, to Austin where paraffin tests were taken of their hands. He said a letter of the Department of Public Safety said that the test on the defendant's hand was positive.

He said the Shuffields stayed in jail several days after bond was made because they wanted to. "They were afraid of the 'Kirks'."

In defense questioning Sheriff Black said that Shuffields had complained about the "small things" concerning the Kirks.

Smith asked about a letter from the Dept. of Public Safety about Kirk's trucks being parked in front of the cafe, but the line of questioning was objected to by Prescott and Judge Wallace required the defense to make questioning more specific.

Black testified that Gene Kirk, brother of the deceased, had been a police dispatcher in November, 1957, when Eual Shuffield lost an eye in an incident with a Cameron policeman by the name of Wilkins.

He said as far as he knew neither Gene Kirk nor Jesse Kirk, Jr., had anything to do with the incident, which Shuffield tried, but was unable to prosecute.

Black also said he had known the defendant for 50 years and

Final Minor League Action

Earlier testimony by Dr. S. H. Richardson, Cameron doctor showed that he had performed an examination of Kirk's body at Marek-Burns funeral home and found three bullet wounds: in Kirk's right temple, left shoulder and left side.

He said that "there was no doubt that the wound No. 3, the head wound, caused death." It also caused a contusion or black eye of the victim's right eye, he said.

It took two days to empanel a 12-man petit jury out of a special District Court venire list of 290 Countians. By 4 p. m. Tuesday, the 12th juror and last man on the venire list, Fred Simank, of Rockdale, was accepted by Dist. Atty. Jack Prescott and defense attorneys, Charles Smith, Jr., and Edgar Hoppe.

Final minor league action two weeks ago was highlighted by a 9-9 tie game between the Giants and Yankees. The contest was called after the required number of innings had been played. In other action, the Lions edged the league - leading Hustlers, 2-0; the defeat was the first of the year for the Hustlers.

The Lions took a second victory over the Yankees, 7-3, Tuesday night.

VIEW ON SPORTS

— WITH ROBERT MANN —

The annual Cameron gaited and quarter horse shows were the success anticipated by officials in the last two weeks. A total of about 3,500 turned out for each event.

Camerons dominated the scene in various riding and show classes. As is the situation at near - by horse shows and rodeos, the local horse enthusiasts really showed their stuff.

Hats off to Buddy Shipp and Mrs. Joe Hickman, chairmen of the shows. Except for the lack of seating facilities, which I hope will be corrected by next year's show.

Minor League baseball season drew to a close last week and that's all for another year as far as the 8, 9, and 10 year-olds are concerned.

Some of the squads had parties and get - together to help keep the memories of years gone past fresh in the minds of Cameron's youth.

School Finance Problems General

Cameron's school finances share the problems common to all political subdivisions these days--finding enough revenue to do a big job.

The rising costs of school needs, shown in the continuing financial strain of the Cameron district as well as most school districts in Central Texas, face all patrons, not just the school board.

A citizens advisory group recommended last week that a bond issue be forestalled in favor of short term financing to build some $30,000 worth of classrooms at O. J. Thomas.

In making the recommendation, the group viewed the prospect of additional needs through the years when a bond issue may be the only answer to such problems as enlarged gymnasium facilities, new high school building or wing, and others.

And during the discussion of the school financial problem over OJT classrooms, the question of equalizing taxes came up in the advisory group's recommendation to raise valuations 10 per cent across the board.

School board members mentioned the fact that equalization would be the most likely way to meet the future needs of the district.

Roy Law, chairman of the advisory group, mentioned the prospect of employing professional evaluators at a flat charge of so much per parcel of land. He noted inequities in tax valuations, on the county level, both high and low, and estimated the school's problems for financing facilities were traceable to this same problem. The cost of valuation experts is high and beyond the present means of the district, officials noted.

These problems await just about every school district and other political subdivision in Texas, save those who have a tremendous tax source from industry or oil.

Only good management these days can keep cities, counties and school districts on an even keel. It takes public understanding to realize the tremendous cost of meeting the services and needs their demands require.

Two Milam County school districts have either revaluated or raised their school taxes in the past two years -- Milano and Buckholts. Their school problems in relation to Cameron's are much greater. They face the demands of sustaining their operations in the face of declining population -- be it ever so slight from year to year. Cameron's problem is one of meeting growth.

Debate Narrows On Tax Question

AUSTIN — After years of tax argument in Texas, debate now seems to have narrowed down to one question.

It is whether to have a sales tax on specified items or one on all but specified items.

First is known as the Pennsylvania-type sales tax. It is favored by Governor Price Daniel as a means of raising $303,000,000 of the $360,000,000 he feels is needed. It would list the items on which a 2 per cent sales tax would be levied. Goal would be to cover all items selling for 50 cents or more except food to be eaten at home, prescription drugs, clothing costing less than $10, feed, seed and fertilizer, books, farm machinery, livestock and gas and electricity used in manufacturing.

Other approach would be a bill like the Senate passed last session. It does not attempt to list all the items to be taxed but applies to everything except the items exempted, including the usual groceries, drugs, farm needs.

Aim of both bills is the same: to raise a lot of money with a lot of retail sales taxes. There is no serious attempt to raise the bulk of the needed money by any means other than retail sales taxes.

To some it might seem a Tweedle Dee-Tweedle Dum choice. But not to Governor Daniel and to many legislators. A sales tax that applies to everything except exempt items is, in the governor's eyes, a "general sales tax," against which he is dead set.

Objectors to the Pennsylvania tax contend it would be one long pain in the neck, both for state collectors and retail merchants, to keep up with what is in the long list and what isn't. Too, they point out that new products are constantly coming on the market and would be tax-free.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson appeared at the hearing as one of the critics of the Daniel (Pennsylvania) plan. IN THE MILL — Legislature is moving swiftly in its short session, trying to avoid re-ploughing the same ground covered on tax bills last session.

Among revenue raising measures under consideration are these: GOVERNOR'S PACKAGE BILL, by Rep. Charles Ballman of Borger. This would include the Pennsylvania-type 2 per cent sales tax, a provision for a minimum levy of 1 per cent 1,000 cubic feet on gas, a two-factor franchise tax on interstate corporations, a 50 per cent increase in driver's license fees, a transfer of that portion of gasoline taxes allocated for schools at the end of August each year and a leveling of the tax on coin-operated machines at $10 each per year.

HINSON PACKAGE BILL, by Rep. George Hinson of Mineola, frequent sponsor of measures favored by the governor. Hinson's bill would include a sales tax on purchases of $5 or more, a corporate income tax, real estate transfer tax, a severance beneficiary tax on natural gas, a utilities tax and a 1 per cent transfer from the permanent school fund. Estimated yield: $368,000,000.

GAS TAX BILL, by Rep. Eckhardt of Houston. Bill is designed to insure that the state would collect a minimum tax of 1 cent on each 1,000 cubic feet of Texas gas. If the present 7 per cent gas production tax did not supply it, the purchaser would have to pay the difference. Estimated yield: $30,000,000. It is included in the Ballman bill.

SELECTIVE EXCISE TAX, by Rep. Ben Atwell of Dallas. It is similar to the Pennsylvania tax, also, and would yield an estimated $355,000,000.

ESCHEAT BILL, by Rep. Charles Hughes of Sherman. This is the well-worn proposal to provide enforcement procedures so that abandoned property, bank accounts, etc., would go to the state.

BATTLE OF THE POLLS — Two citizens groups are engaged in a duel of poll taking, each trying to demonstrate more public support for its tax plan.

Citizens for Sales Tax announced that 11,000 persons replying to its post card poll, 83.6 per cent favored a retail sales tax.

Citizens for Fair Taxation, a group which supports Governor Daniel's tax program, immediately declared that the CST poll was heavily weighted with Chamber of Commerce members and not a true reflection of public sentiment. Citizens for Fair Taxation is at work on a poll of its own.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Claims Future Of The Family-Size Farm Is About As Secure As World Is

Dear editor:

The future of the so-called family farm has been discussed thoroughly back and forth in recent years, especially by big city newspapers and magazines trying to get their minds off the uncertain future of cities, and they all conclude that there's no point in trying to artificially prop up the family-type farm if it can't stand alone, without of course interfering with the urban renewal plans designed to prop up cities that can't stand alone.

It was therefore with a certain amount of puzzlement that I read an article by a columnist in a paper I found out here on this Johnson grass farm yesterday reporting that he had found out that the House Agricultural Committee in Washington had "voted that family farms should not be preserved."

The reason I'm puzzled is that I had no notion the future of this farm was in the hands of a committee in Washington. The power of the vote is tremendous, but I don't believe they've made the ballot yet that's strong enough to determine the future of this farm. As best I can tell, it's future is in my hands and right now I ain't predicting which way it'll go. It'll take more than a vote by Congress to eradicate the Johnson grass out here, not to mention several other improvements staring me in the face.

Actually, I don't know what the future of the family-size farm is, but I doubt if it's any gloomier than the future of the nation, size nation or the world-size world. There's room for worry, any direction you want to look, and always has been.

Everybody talks about the unfair odds farmers are fighting and it's true, and in many cases it's true that you don't make any money farming these days, still at the same time the picture isn't all black -- some years you lose a lot less than you do others.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

SHOULD GOVERNMENT BE MAN'S SERVANT OR MASTER?

Americans believe:

Government should be strong enough to protect the people from aggression, foreign and domestic, but not strong enough to regiment them. The law should create and maintain the conditions under which the people are free from monopolistic restraint to plan, work, produce and develop themselves to the full measure of their individual abilities. Americans believe that a strong nation is based fundamentally on strong, self-reliant citizens.

Communists believe:

Government should be strong enough to dictate the work efforts of the people and channel them into the activities which, in the sole opinion of government, will best advance the security and welfare of the state. The individual is of insignificant importance except as a member of a disciplined mass. The law, therefore, must suppress individuality. Communists believe that a strong nation must be composed of servile, regimented citizens.

Poage Sees U.S On War's Brink

It is human nature to let local problems obscure more vital problems which have their location at a distance and we are all prone to emphasize the irritations of the moment rather than the critical threats of tomorrow. So it is with Congress, but I would not want to let our interest in taxes, unemployment, low farm prices or civil rights cause us to forget that we are right now very close to a shooting war.

I don't mean to say that anybody wants a war, but we want to get Castro out of Cuba. Mr. Krushchev wants to get us out of Berlin. The Communists want to get the West out of Southeast Asia. Any one of the areas could erupt into a real conflict at any time.

Probably the most dangerous is Berlin simply because it is here that we are at the greatest disadvantage. Berlin is 110 miles inside a hostile country. The Communist powers can put any number of troops there in a matter of hours. It is probably impossible for us to physically hold Berlin against any determined attack, but were Berlin attacked or besieged we would, as I see it, be required to use all the force at our command to defend or to free it. This, of course means all-out war if Russia wants it that way.

I don't think Russia wants war, therefore, as I see it, our only chance of avoiding war (without abject surrender) is to convince the world that we will honor our commitment to protect Berlin.

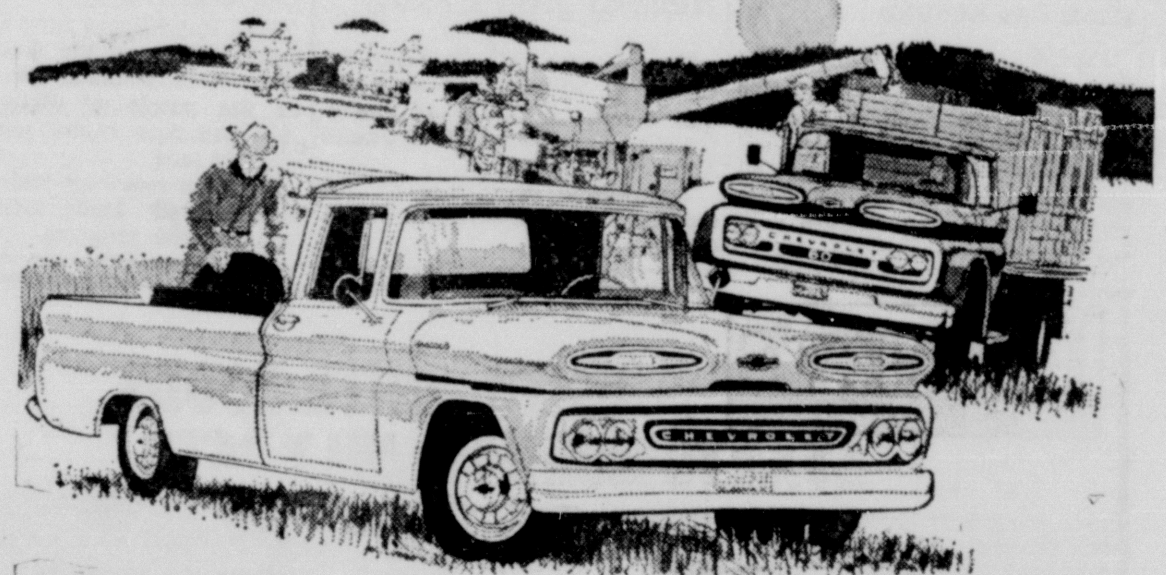

Stop in and let us help you start on the road to home ownership.

NOW'S THE TIME to save more truck dollars on the more-for-your-dollar trucks!

Your truck dollars are worth a whole lot more at your Chevrolet dealer's right now! First off, you get a head start on saving because summer's the saving season. Then, with a harder working, easier riding Chevy truck, you're set to save every mile you haul. And, finally, at trade-in time, you can expect an extra dividend because of Chevy's traditionally higher resale value. What could be better?

Summer's the season to get extra mileage from your dollars on the trucks built to give you extra miles of hauling. With Independent Front Suspension, Chevrolet trucks keep going thousands of miles longer because far less destructive jar and shake are transmitted through the truck. Chevy I.F.S. trucks work harder, too, in areas where other trucks have to be pampered. And, with Chevy's wide choice of thrifty 6 and hardy V8 power, you can tailor your truck exactly to your job. So how can you miss—especially now during the summer saving season?

88-Year-Old Citizen

Marek Relates Early-Day Life

By Robert Mann

When F. A. Marek came to Cameron in 1895, it was a small, unsettled community consisting mostly of farmers and ambitious young people looking for a chance to "get ahead."

Last Friday morning Mr. Marek looked back over the years, picking out events of importance in his 88 year old life, talked for a while of the beginning of the Industrial Revolution, of which he was an eye-witness; and discussed the furniture business, which he has been a part of for fifty-five years.

Time hasn't detracted Mr. Marek's mind for business or his ambition to stay busy all the time. He still works all day, six days a week at his Exchange Furniture Company located at 204 South Houston.

His son, Amos Marek, born in Cameron in 1897, has lived here all his life and worked with his dad the past forty years. There are two more children of Mr. Marek and his wife, formerly Mrs. Annie Schiller; a daughter, Olga, and another daughter, Mrs. Ladis Marek, Sr.

It was in the fall of 1895 when F. A., along with his father, Joseph Marek, came to Cameron. The older Marek was a farmer. In 1882 he bought a farm in the Yarrington Community, known as Big Elm. F. A. Marek worked with him until the fall of 1895 when he set out on his own. The farm is still in the family.

He described Cameron as being about half as big as it is now. The streets were dirt and the building across the street from his store's present location used to be the center of a large ditch. He recalled the day the first train came to Cameron following construction of the depot. The whole town turned out, and he being a member of the band, played the coronet in the ceremonies. A large picnic was held and a guest speaker delivered the dedication message.

Mr. Marek worked for the father of Hayden Lawrence, C. W. Lawrence, and for H. F. Smith, Sr., father of Oxshier Smith, in a hardware store business. Although he later attended a Waco Business College, Mr. Marek says he got all his "horse sense" during the ten years in the hardware business. He served on the school board for four years.

Born in Czechoslovakia in 1873, Mr. Marek learned to speak English through a Czech-English dictionary.

At this time during our interview in the old furniture building, a grandfather's clock chimed out 11 o'clock fitting in quite appropriately with the conversation at hand.

Mr. Marek explained that the clock was 75 years old and that when he refused to sell it to a Milano gentleman, he became quite mad, but Mr. Marek stuck to his guns and his clock.

In 1906 he established a furniture store and undertaker's business. It is interesting to note that Bill Marek of Marek - Burns Funeral Home and half-brother to F. A., went to work there at the age of eighteen.

The talk drifted to the value of land and Mr. Marek mentioned that at one time he had a chance to buy the land around St. Edwards Hospital for twenty-seven dollars an acre. He said that where the schools are now was at one time good farmland and he built two houses in that vicinity. Speaking of school, Mr. Charles Yoe was a friend of Marek's and is described by him as a good and generous man.

Marek has been a subscriber to the Cameron Herald since 1900. He recalls the Herald editor, O. F. McAnally, that was stabbed to death on a Cameron street corner. When asked if he recalled the filibustering days of Teddy Roosevelt, he replied, "Lord, Yes."

"The first car in Cameron," he recalled with the help of his son, "was owned by Dr. John Denson. When he first got it, he lost control and knocked down the fence surrounding my front lawn."

His first furniture store was located next door to the present day Pennies. He moved his location several times before settling on his present site.

Mr. Marek served as vice-president of the Farmer's Mutual Protection Association for seventeen years. He has been an SPJST member for 64 years.

His wife, Annie, serves as "cook and housekeeper" in the Marek home. As Mr. Marek puts it, "She cooks, and I eat what she cooks." He has been married since 1896.

The old grandfather clock chimed again, signifying that it was eleven-thirty and as the clock died away with the talk of the good old times, it seemed very appropriate indeed.
